

a p i c s

The Society for Supply Chain Professionals

APICS NSW Chapter

Sustainable, Green Supply Chains

Transforming end to end supply chains with sustainability strategies

Presentation

The time for proactive action on Greening Supply Chains has arrived!

Climate change driven expectations from consumers, community groups/NGOs, regulations from Governments and your own CSR/sustainability obligations, demand that you manage the supply chain risks proactively and innovate on this new frontier.

Do you have proper methodologies, tools & techniques to eliminate waste & improve your supply chain in line with Corporate Sustainability programs? Are you ready for CSR audits in your Supply Chain & Logistics? Do you have verifiable data to support the claims of green house gas reduction activity within your company? What liability are you exposing yourself, your board, your organisation to, without a verifiable record set? Does going green have to cost extra? What green supply chain projects are your competitors considering at the moment? How will these projects change the industry perception, pecking order and profitability? How can you establish your company as a leader in green supply chain while making sustainable profits?

Global Supply Chain Group has developed tools and methodologies to address these issues and in this presentation, Murali will highlight the key considerations as you seek to establish a clear actionable plan for transformation to a Green Supply Chain.

About the Presenter

Murali Dharan specialises in Sustainability & Supply Chain transformations and Technology Solutions. He has a strong track record of leadership in commercial and non-profit organisations with special interest in CSR. With expertise in strategy and business development, he also teaches Business/Marketing, Competitive Strategies to MBA students. He is a founding member, since 2002, of TiE (The Indus Entrepreneurs), the global non-profit network of entrepreneurs, which he built up as President over 6 years. He's the Director, Sustainability at Global Supply Chain Group, specialising in supply chain consulting and solutions. Besides business, Murali is an active Social Entrepreneur, providing leadership to several non-profit organisations in charity, education & social transformations.

Registration Form: Sustainable Green Supply Chains

Fax back to apics NSW on 02 9891 1220 or contact apics NSW office on 02 9891 1411 for more information.

Name: _____

Job Title: _____

Company: _____

Contact Telephone: _____

Email: _____

Venue

Industry and Investment NSW
Level 2, 470 Church Street,
North Parramatta

A parking area is located opposite
Industry & Investment in Church Street.

Industry & Investment

Times

11 August 2010
6:00pm – 8:00pm

RSVP

Before Monday 9 August

Email:

enquiries@apicsnsw.org.au

Fax: 02 9891 1220

This event attracts 2
continuing professional development points